Good results and happy patients are what motivate Dr. Wells. He says, "Cosmetic surgery is a journey and it is my job to guide my patients safely and successfully to the outcome they are seeking. What could be more rewarding than making people happy? I get to do that every day. I am a lucky man."

Dr. Wells is best known for the "Mommy Makeover", which focuses on breast and abdominal contour surgery. Throughout his career, he has done both reconstructive and cosmetic surgery, though his practice focuses primarily on cosmetic procedures. Wells plastic surgery and skincare is recognized as an Allergan Diamond Practice, which means his practice is in the top 3% nationally for their product sales.

Dr. Henry Wells graduated from the UNC-Chapel Hill and received his medical degree from UK. He completed his plastic surgery training at the University of Missouri-Columbia, where he served as an assistant professor of plastic surgery. He returned to Kentucky in 1988 to enter private practice.

Henry's wife, Susan, manages the Wells Skin Care program and most of their nonsurgical services. They have two sons. Henry loves outdoor sports, travel and painting, and translates his knowledge of art into sculpting and balancing the human body. His other passion is working on cars and motors.
